

table of contents

preface	3
overview	6
executive summary	9
the sex worker	10
the client	13
the community	14
chapter 1: the sex worker	17
1.1 introduction	18
1.2 methodology	21
1.3 results	23
1.3.1 recruitment	23
1.3.2 sex worker demographic characteristics	23
1.3.3 sex industry experience	26
1.3.4 knowledge, attitudes and job satisfaction	32
1.3.5 sexual services provided, health and related activities	38
1.3.6 violence and unwanted sexual experiences	43
1.3.7 what has changed in the past decade? comparing the 2003 sample with the 1991 sex worker sample	47
1.4 discussion and conclusion	53
chapter 2: the client	57
2.1 introduction	58
2.2 methodology	61
2.3 results	62
2.3.1 recruitment	62
2.3.2 characteristics of the sample	62
2.3.3 sex services used	65
2.3.4 personal relationships	72
2.3.5 health and related activities	74
2.3.6 substance use	76
2.4 discussion and conclusion	79

chapter 3: the community	81
3.1 introduction	82
3.2 background	83
3.3 methodology	85
3.4 results	86
3.4.1 comparison of case and control areas	86
3.4.2 brothels and sex worker activity in local council areas	89
3.4.3 community attitudes towards prostitution	93
3.4.4 correlation matrix of the four subscales created in this study	103
3.5 discussion and conclusion	110
<hr/>
bibliography	113
<hr/>
appendices
appendix A monitoring stis in queensland: findings and technical considerations	121
appendix B sex worker survey	129
appendix C client survey	161
appendix D community attitudes survey	177
